A Perspective on Christian Education from a New Student

Today, I am going to speak on why Cypress Christian School is such a great school for a kid like me. There are many reasons, but two stand out that I would like to share with you. My first reason is that we are taught from a biblical worldview which provides a solid foundation to seek the truth about the world around us. My second reason is that the teachers at CCS teach and model Christ-like behavior to build our character.

Why is it important to learn from a biblical worldview? It is important because that is the only way to learn the complete truth. As God has had a hand in everything in our world, to be taught without the inclusion of the Bible's truth would leave us with an incomplete view of our world. From math to science to history, all subjects are taught by showing us how God has had a hand in everything. A specific example is history. Mrs. Bruder incorporates the timeline of the Bible and specific examples that show real evidence of what the Bible speaks about. This helps me see how God's miracles and works have been proven throughout time. Not only does this give the Bible credibility, it re-enforces my Christian beliefs and serves as the foundation of how I see the world.

Why is it important to have teachers who teach and model Christ-like behavior? It is important because it helps to build Christ-like behaviors in me. If we have a problem, our teachers will pray with us and show us how Jesus would have handled the situation. As Jesus did, our teachers teach us to appreciate all living things and, as well, emphasize the importance of the Ten Commandments. It is not only the teaching that has made an impact on me. It is how our teachers model the behavior that they teach.

It is the combination of these two main reasons that have made the biggest impact on me. I want also to share with you that it has felt like God has been guiding my pencil as I wrote this speech. I hope this speech sparks some enthusiasm for those considering a Christian education.
